

BILBOROUGH
SIXTH FORM COLLEGE

Data Protection Policy

Updated for GDPR May 2018

Revised March 2019

Introduction

Bilborough College ("the College") needs to collect, store and use certain information about its employees, students and other users to allow it to monitor performance, achievements, health and safety, for example. It also needs to process information so that staff can be recruited and paid, courses organised and legal obligations to funding bodies and government departments complied with. This policy describes how this data must be collected, processed and stored to meet the College's data protection standards and to comply with the law and in particular under Article 5 of GDPR.

Compliance with the Data Protection Act 2018 is the responsibility of all members of the College and any breach of the Data Protection policy may lead to disciplinary action being taken, access to the college being withdrawn, or a criminal prosecution. Any queries regarding the interpretation of the policy should be directed to the Data Protection Officer.

The College has implemented this Data Protection Policy to ensure all College Personnel are aware of what they must do to ensure the correct and lawful treatment of Personal Data. This will maintain confidence in the College and will provide for a successful working and learning environment for all.

To comply with the law, information must be collected and used fairly, stored safely and not disclosed unlawfully to any other person. To do this, the College must comply with the Data Protection Principles, which are set out in the Data Protection Act (1998).

In summary these state that personal data shall:

- Be obtained and processed fairly and lawfully and shall not be processed unless certain conditions are met
- Be obtained for a specified and lawful purpose and shall not be processed in any manner incompatible with that purpose
- Be adequate, relevant and not excessive for those purposes
- Be accurate and kept up to date
- Not be kept for longer than is necessary for that purpose
- Be processed in accordance with the data subject's rights
- Be kept safe from unauthorised access, accidental loss or destruction
- Not be transferred to a country outside the European Economic Area, unless that country has equivalent levels of protection for personal data

The College and all staff or others who process or use any personal information must ensure that they follow these principles at all times. In order to ensure that this happens, the College has developed the Data Protection Policy.

Transparent Processing – Privacy notices

Where the College collects Personal Data directly from Individuals, the College will inform them about how the College uses their Personal Data. This is in a privacy notice. The College has adopted the following privacy notices:

- Student

- Staff
- Visitor
- Governor
- Homestay provider

If the College receives Personal Data about an Individual from other sources, the College will provide the Individual with a privacy notice about how the College will use their Personal Data. This will be provided as soon as reasonably possible and in any event within one month.

If the College changes how it uses Personal Data, the College may need to notify Individuals about the change. If College staff therefore intend to change how they use Personal Data please notify the Data Protection Officer who will decide whether the intended use requires amendments to be made to the privacy notices and any other controls which need to apply.

Copies of Privacy Notices (formerly called a Fair Processing Notice) are available on the Intranet and a copy of the student Privacy Notice is included in Appendix 1 as an example.

The designated Data Controller

The College as a body corporate is the data controller under the Act, and the College Corporation is therefore ultimately responsible for implementation.

The designated Data Protection Officer on behalf of the College is:

Helen Dennis, Director of Marketing & Information

The Data Protection Officer is also responsible for:

- To inform and advise on GDPR and related obligations
- To monitor compliance with the GDPR and related obligations
- To provide advice regarding data protection impact assessment and to monitor its performance
- To act as a point of contact with the supervisory authority, if required
- Monitoring the application and compliance with the GDPR within the College
- Providing advice, guidance and direction on data protection issues within the College
- Maintaining the College's registration with the Information Commissioner's Office
- Notifying the ICO in the event of a data breach

The Data Protection Officer can be contacted by email on dpo@bilborough.ac.uk

Or by phone: 0115 8515000

or at:

Bilborough College

Nottingham,

Scope

The Data Protection Policy covers all computerised and manual data processing relating to identifiable individuals. It not only includes information about individuals, but also opinions and intentions towards an individual. It therefore includes, for example, personnel records about staff, student records, emails relating to identifiable individuals, team meeting minutes, student and staff references.

Status

This policy does not form part of the formal contract of employment, but it is a condition of employment that employees will abide by the rules and policies made by the College from time to time. Any failures to follow the policy can therefore result in disciplinary proceedings.

Any member of staff or student, who considers that the policy has not been followed in respect of personal data about themselves, should raise the matter with the designated data controller initially. If the matter is not resolved it should be raised as a formal grievance.

Responsibilities of Staff and Students

All staff and students are responsible for:

- Checking that any information that they provide to the College in connection with their employment or learning is accurate and up to date
- Informing the College of any changes to or errors in information, which they have provided, i.e. changes of address. They must ensure that changes of address, etc. are notified to Human Resources (staff) and Student Services (students)

The College cannot be held responsible for any such errors unless the staff member or student has made the College aware.

If and when, as part of their responsibilities, staff collect information about other people, (i.e. about students' course work, opinions about ability, references to other academic institutions, or details of personal circumstances), they must comply with the Staff Guidelines in Appendix 2.

Data Security

All staff are responsible for ensuring that:

- Any personal data stored (including personal images) are kept securely, for example in a locked room, locked filing cabinet or locked drawer
- All data that is stored electronically is password protected and that all passwords are regularly changed
 - The college operates a secure student tracking records system for collecting, storing and processing student data. It is expected that electronic student data should be collected, stored and processed within this system wherever possible.
 - Similarly, the college operates a secure system for collecting, processing and storing staff data and it is expected that electronic staff data should be collected, stored and processed within this system wherever possible.

- Data stored on hard-drives or other storage devices is removed before disposal
- Papers containing personal information are shredded before disposal
- Databases are closed and workstations securely locked when leaving the computer or device
- Personal information is not disclosed either orally or in writing or accidentally or otherwise to any unauthorised third party

Staff should note that unauthorised disclosure will usually be a disciplinary matter and may be considered gross misconduct in some cases. It may also result in a personal liability for the individual staff member. For the avoidance of doubt, staff are advised to refer to the Data Controller for advice before deciding to disclose any information.

Staff should not store data files containing personal information on portable storage such as CD or USB sticks for use off-site. This should not be necessary as staff can access this information securely via the remote-desktop server.

If in exceptional circumstances it is considered essential to store personal information on a portable storage device (for example emergency contact details for a trip), staff MUST ensure that the device is suitably encrypted first. Device encryption can be carried out by IT.

Rights to access information – Subject Access Requests

Staff, students and other users of the College have the right to access any personal data that is being kept about them either on computer or in certain files. This is known as a Subject Access Request. Any person who wishes to exercise this right should contact the Data Protection Officer and state clearly what information is being requested.

The right of access to information is not an entitlement to access to documents as such (which may be accessible by means of the Freedom of Information Act, subject to any exemptions and the public interest), but the right to access personal data as contained within the document.

In order to gain access, an individual may wish to receive notification of the information currently being held. This request should be made in writing to the Data Protection Officer. A fee may be payable for the administrative cost of complying with the request.

The College aims to comply with requests for access to personal information as quickly as possible, but will ensure that it is provided within one month.

The college may refuse a subject access request if the data includes information about another individual, except where the other individual has agreed to the disclosure, or where it is reasonable to provide the information without the consent of the other individual. In deciding this, the college will balance the rights of the data subject with the other individual's rights regarding their own information.

The college may also refuse any request which it considers manifestly unfounded or excessive, but in any case will explain and justify such a decision.

Subject Consent

In many cases, the College can only process personal data with the consent of the individual. In some cases, if the data is sensitive, express consent must be obtained. Agreement to the College processing some specified classes of personal data is a condition of acceptance of a student onto any course, and a condition of employment for staff. This includes information about previous criminal convictions in accordance with the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 and information about disabilities. Some jobs or courses will bring applicants into contact with children, including young people between the ages of 16 and 18.

The College has a duty to ensure that staff are suitable for the job, and students for the courses offered. The College also has a duty of care to all staff and students and must therefore make sure that employees and those who use the College facilities do not pose a threat or danger to other users. Therefore, all prospective staff and students will be asked to consent to their data being processed when an offer of employment or a course place is made. A refusal to sign such a form may result in the offer being withdrawn.

Processing Sensitive Information

Processing means obtaining, recording, holding or carrying out any operation on the information or data.

Sensitive personal data is a special category. It may only be processed with the explicit consent of the data subjects. Sensitive personal data, including personal images, consists of information relating to:

the racial or ethnic heritage of the data subject

- political opinions
- religious or other beliefs of a similar nature
- trade union membership
- physical or mental health or condition
- sexual orientation
- the commission or alleged commission of any offence
- proceedings for any offence or alleged offence

Sometimes it is necessary to process information about a person's criminal convictions, race and gender and family details. This may be to ensure the College is a safe place for everyone, or to operate other College policies, such as the Equality, Diversity & Inclusion Policy.

The College will also ask for information about particular health needs, such as allergies to particular forms of medication, or any conditions such as asthma or diabetes or disabilities. The College will only use the information for the protection of the health and safety of the individual, but will need consent to process this information, for example in the event of a medical emergency.

Because this information is considered sensitive, and it is recognised that the processing of it may cause particular concern or distress to individuals, staff and students will be asked to give express consent for the College to do this. Offers of employment or course places may be withdrawn if an individual refuses consent to this without good reason.

Examination Results

Students will be entitled to information about their marks for both coursework and examinations. Examination results are normally notified directly to students. Lists of examination results identifying individual students are not posted on College notice boards. The College may withhold certificates, accreditation or references in the event that the full course fees have not been paid, or books and equipment not returned to the College.

Examination results are made available to the Director of Education, Nottingham City Council, and Heads of partner schools.

Examination results may be made available for publication in the local newspapers. The College does not have to obtain specific consent to publish results but students have a right to object to publication. News stories focussing on individual students will only be made available with the consent of the student.

Retention of Data

Personal data will be retained for no longer than is necessary for the purpose for which it was collected.

The College will keep some forms of information for longer than others to meet various contractual or legal requirements.

Appendix 3 indicates the length of time that certain records will be retained.

Data Protection breaches

Where a Data Protection breach occurs, or is suspected to have occurred, this should be reported immediately in accordance with the Data Security Breach Management and Reporting Procedure.

Data Protection Audits

Audits of computerised and manual record systems should be conducted annually.

Periodic review of Data Protection Policy

The Data Protection Officer should review the Data Protection Policy annually.

- Has the data subject been advised this type of data will be processed?
- Have you checked that the data is accurate?

The College will designate certain staff as authorised to access data that is sensitive or non-standard for example when dealing with matters relating to safe-guarding. Only these staff are authorised to access data in this category.
