

EMMA PHILLIPS
CLASS OF 2002-4

WHERE AM I NOW?

I work in Commercial Strategy in FMCG at Reckitt Benckiser Australia.

I am a Category Development Manager therefore I look after Dettol and BAM brands and develop the innovation and pricing, promotional models for the national and international market.

A LEVEL QUALIFICATIONS AT BILBOROUGH

Psychology, Communication Studies, General Studies.

WHERE I WENT AFTER BILBOROUGH

I went to the University of Bath and studied Psychology.

MY MEMORIES OF BILBOROUGH

It taught me the skills to get my degree – essay writing, exam preparation and maths. I learnt skills in communication that have helped in a business environment. I also developed social skills to get on with colleagues at work. It taught me hard work does pay off.

MY ADVICE TO YOU...

It is a great College that allows you to thrive as a person and academically. I learnt lots socially through meeting a real mix of individuals, which was great preparation for university and work. I also really enjoyed the sport at Bilborough with opportunities to represent the College and County. I also felt it has a supportive learning environment; there is a real 'strive for success culture'