WHERE I WENT AFTER BILBOROUGH

I attended the University of Nottingham and studied Human Geography. I focussed principally on Economic Geography and Geographical Information Systems (GIS), both of which are critical to my current role and I obtained first-class honours degree.

MY MEMORIES OF BILBOROUGH

Sparked my passion for Geography and also made me aware of the diverse opportunities open to Geography graduates. Bilborough also provided the opportunity to go on University experience days, which helped to provide an idea of what to expect during the degree. The college was also incredibly supportive through the application process.

MY ADVICE TO YOU...

Seize every opportunity on offer – it'll help in more ways than you can imagine!
