Governor Profile

Dr Sheilagh Resnick Independent Governor

Sheilagh is a Senior Lecturer at Nottingham Business School, Nottingham Trent University. After a career in business, working for Boots, she changed directions, completed a doctorate at Nottingham Trent University and began a new career in teaching and research. She teaches services marketing to final year undergraduates and supervises PhD students. She is a spokesperson for the University on retailing in the UK and consumer behaviour.

Sheilagh has three children who all attended school in Nottingham and went on to higher education. She is passionate about education and its role in improving young people's lives. She is hoping that her combined experience in both business and in education, will support Bilborough College in its future development

In her spare time, Sheilagh enjoys travel, tennis, reading, the theatre and art.
